

AUDIO MIX / SOUND DESIGN

WHAT'S SIZZLING?

Years of collaboration. One brand-new way to work together.

Emmy-winning producer and voice-over director Holly Gregory and sound design wizard John Pappas of Fireaudio have been finishing each other's sentences (and sessions) for years. Now it's official: one-stop, full-service audio production — script to final mix, no detours.

Celebrity-couple name: Jolly. Some couples go Instagram official. We went invoice official.

MEET JOHN

20+ years turning raw audio into immersive, story-driven sound for broadcast, interactive, podcast, and narrative content. He makes dialogue sparkle, SFX punch, and mixes broadcast-ready — without losing the creative soul of the story. Basically, a sound whisperer with excellent taste in gear.

MEET HOLLY

A seasoned voice director, writer, and producer with famously "great ears" (her words, our agreement). She's casted your fav cartoons, has directed nearly 1,000 audio projects — animation, audiobooks, phone trees, and more — and still brings the energy, creativity, and attention to detail her actors and clients rave about.

WHY JOLLY ROCKS

- Years of built-in shorthand together means faster turnarounds for your deadlines.
- Lean team, kept entirely in-house — no outsourcing mystery, no bloated budgets.
- Remote-recording pros, so your costs (and your commute) stay low.
- Plug-and-play flexibility — we slot into your project with exactly the skills you need, no ego required.
- Kid & family project specialists, including work with young talent (we are very patient people).
- A client list that reads like the credits of everything you've ever watched: Apple, Audible, Discovery, Disney, Fred Rogers Company, HarperCollins, HBO, Mattel, Marvel, NBC Universal, Nickelodeon, Paramount, Pixar, PBS Kids, Scholastic, Sesame Workshop, Sony, TLC, and Tonies.
